Into the future with tradition

It is a matter close to my heart to take you on a journey of renewal and the tried and tested. Because we at RUF|Betten change every year without losing sight of our tradition. You will discover this golden thread in our latest collection for the year 2024/25. Since our foundation in Rastatt, Germany, in 1926, we have seen ourselves as guardians and innovators of the need for rest by committing ourselves to lasting quality and excellent craftsmanship.

Our latest collection is not only a reflection of our timeless craftsmanship, but also a living testimony to our ability to adapt to the needs of the present. We combine traditional comfort with fresh trends to fill your space with vibrant elegance and comfortable functionality. We are aware that sustainability does not mean standing still, but rather an ongoing process of learning and innovation. That's why, as a carbon neutral company, we endeavour to protect our heritage with smart and environmentally friendly practices.

Within our collections, you will experience individual development options and the interplay of versatility. For example, discover our new Adesso KT-QC headboard, which perfectly combines craftsmanship and timeless elegance. Or the bold shapes of our new masterpiece ECCO, which speaks a forward-looking design language. Every element, every line and every fabric is designed to become a reflection of your personality and lifestyle.

Behind each of our designer beds are people with vision and passion, who accompany them from the first drawing to the final production. Their passion and commitment make it possible for us to hold on to our values and that we can hold on to our values and traditions despite constant change.

I invite you to be inspired by the dynamic energy of our collection to create a place that is more than a place to sleep – it is an oasis of relaxation, a symbol of changeability and a real piece of home.

With inspired regards,

Tim Steffens
Geschäftsführer

Box spring or upholstered bed: What suits you?

Choosing between a box spring or an upholstered bed from RUF|Betten is not easy. One thing first: Both variants fulfil every requirement in terms of comfort, functionality and design. The big difference between upholstered beds or “normal beds” and a box-spring bed is simply the base underneath the mattress.

Upholstered bed: the flexible choice

Upholstered beds with their upholstered frame made of wood-based material not only offer visual variety, but also many practical advantages. The internal slatted base provides optimum support for the mattress on top and keeps it securely in bed:

- | The spring base underneath is a slatted frame
- | The mattress visually sinks into bedframe and offers a perfect support
- | By choosing the slatted frame and mattress, you determine the perfect support for your spine

Box spring bed: sleeping like in a hotel

Box spring beds are characterised by their special construction. The box under the mattress is filled with barrel pocket springs and serves to support the mattress. The nubbing and Velcro strips on the top of the box and the fleece on the underside of every RUF|Betten box spring mattress ensure a firm hold. This ensures a secure hold at all times, without any unsightly retaining straps. The advantages at a glance:

- | A box with slats and barrel pocket springs serves as a base for the mattress
- | Nubbing and Velcro on the box, as well as the fleece on the mattresses, ensure the best hold
- | The choice of mattress determines your level of comfort
- | “Original Boxspring” certified by the German Furniture quality association (DGM) for highest quality
- | Patented concepts such as QLX offer additional damping levels for vibration-free sleep

Similarities of both variants

Whether you prefer an upholstered bed or a box-spring bed, RUF|Betten offers you a wide range of options for designing your personal dream bed:

- | Extremely high or very low, short or long, narrow or wide. Any height and bed size is possible
- | Floor-standing, with low or very high feet in many shapes, colours and materials
- | With a choice of toppers and mattresses
- | With a bed base for plenty of optimally ventilated storage space
- | With motorised adjustment via cable switch or remote control/APP
- | Adjustable headboards for hours of relaxation
- | Many fabrics and leather looks in a constantly updated fabric collection
- | Various design options to suit your personal style
- | High-quality materials and workmanship for long-lasting comfort
- | Innovative technologies for an optimal sleeping climate and comfort

Decide according to your feelings

Whether you opt for the airy comfort of a box-spring bed or the flexible elegance of an upholstered bed, at RUF|Betten you will find quality, comfort and style in every variant – guaranteed Made in Germany. Choose the bed that meets your nightly resting needs and at the same time enriches your bedroom. Discover the unlimited possibilities and configure your customised bed now.

We take responsibility

And we're proud of it. We hold ourselves accountable to ourselves, our customers, our future and our planet. The brand RUF|Betten is therefore synonymous with sustainable quality that is regularly affirmed by independent experts and institutes. As a result, our beds and our production operation in Germany regularly claim awards and certification.

We want to pass on this certainty to you. Because we believe that, especially when we are talking about an item of furniture we come into close contact with every day, there is no room for compromise. Durability, compatibility, the absence of hazardous substances, sustainability, quality of materials and standard of finishing are not properties that are evident at first glance. Thankfully, we set the standard in these areas too, thereby providing a great foundation for comfortable sleep and quality of life. You can therefore rest assured that you have chosen the very best.

This product is being developed and manufactured in Germany. This is what the “Furniture Made in Germany” mark of origin stands for. This special quality label is awarded by the Association of the German Furniture Industry after thorough and strict testing. The high requirements are checked regularly. RUF|Betten gives you the security and a reliable orientation for choosing a quality product from Germany.

The Deutsche Gütegemeinschaft Möbel e. V. (German Quality Furniture Association – DGM) is committed to safety and health, and awards the “Golden M” as a sign that furniture meets the high requirements of the DGM for durable, environmentally friendly and healthy quality furniture. RUF|Betten has been a member of the DGM (German Association for Quality Furniture) since 1973. Our beds all meet the increasingly stringent standards on durability, safety and most importantly, health and the environment.

In order to better navigate the jungle of box spring beds and providers, the DGM has introduced a quality label, which is only given to manufacturers, whose box spring beds have been carefully scrutinized meeting the strict requirements of the DGM. RUF|Betten can be proud of this label since all box spring beds have been tested, certified and fully comply with the quality requirements of the DGM.

This seal certifies that spring wood frames from RUF|Betten comply with the mechanical and electrical requirements of the relevant product group, so if used properly, the safety and health of the user are not compromised.

This seal is your guarantee that: all mattress covers from RUF|Betten are tested for harmful substances in accordance with the Öko-Tex Standard 100 and have been awarded seal for textile confidence.

Before they are launched on the market, mattresses from RUF|Betten are tested by independent accredited testing institutes for durability, functionality, environmental soundness and comfort standards, and are awarded a seal as proof of our defined, superior and consistent.

Products by RUF|Betten may carry the emission label. The classification was verified through a harmful substance test by a neutral testing institute in accordance with DGM specifications. The provisions are far above the applicable standards. Moreover, the sustainability aspect is given special consideration.

RUF|Betten participates in the “Climate pact for the furniture industry”. Balancing and efforts made to reduce CO<sub>2</sub> emissions, undertaken by every member of the German Furniture Quality Association (DGM), form the basis for this commitment. RUF|Betten thereby makes a significant contribution to climate protection and is approved to use this Label as a responsible and future oriented manufacturer.

This CO<sub>2</sub> saver certificate confirms that RUF|Betten is committed to environmental protection and, among other things, recycles an above-average amount of packaging materials every year. In this way the company saves harmful CO<sub>2</sub> emissions and thus makes an important contribution to environmental protection.

BED BASES

The base of your bed

Some things are invisible, but they are of essential importance. For ex-ample, the foundation of a house or the substructure of our beds.

Be-cause just like a foundation, the substructure of our RUF | beds ensures the stability of your place of well-being, enables proper ventilation and offers numerous extras. Reason enough to take a close look at the details.

We offer you ingenious comfort, sophisticated design and innovative technologies. Because at RUF | Betten, we work with our developers, designers, technicians and master craftsmen every day to offer you the best and most suitable foundation for your good night's sleep. But just take a look for yourself.

Box spring or upholstered bed

This is the first question that comes to mind when looking for a new bed. But what are the differences? We'll explain. The basic difference lies in the slat base.

In the case of an upholstered bed, the spring wood frame takes over the under-suspension. This supports and forms the base. A box spring bed, on the other hand, consists of a box that is equipped with barrel pocket springs, which serve as the springing for the barrel pocket spring core mattress.

Here, too, the details are decisive. For example, all boxspring beds from RUF | Betten are tested and certified by the DGM and awarded the "original Box-spring" quality label, see also page 9.

Diversity in every respect

The bed bases from RUF | Betten offer you many special extras that will make your bed your absolute favourite place.

You will find bases on legs, floor-standing, with a storage space or with motorised adjustment. Some beds that are voluminous or compact and full of lying comfort or others that are delicately understated with interior box spring comfort.

Visual elements such as a chrome pilaster strip, a substructure housing for a continuous front view on boxspring beds or a mirror cover as an elegant finishing touch are just some of the possibilities for designing your place of well-being to suit your style and requirements.

Great climate

A good bed climate is also part of high-quality sleeping and lying com-fort. Ventilation of the bed frame and base is more than just a feel-good factor, it's about safety. That's why RUF | Betten has well thought-out ventilation concepts to offer with optiVENT® and AIRVent®.

OptiVent® is based on the double-wall principle and on the fact that air can circulate from the outside into the inside of the bed base.

AIRVent® was created for the box spring construction and directs air e.g. in QLX, through vertical chambers and thus ensures an optimal microclimate.

Both ventilation concepts remove moisture and/or regulate air move-ment to prevent mould stains and mildew.

Special features

- | AIRVent®: vertical air circulation
- | High lying and entry/exit comfort

The subtle difference: advantages of bed bases from RUF | Betten

All inclusive: optimum ventilation for a healthy bed climate and storage space for comfort and co.

Depending on the model, our designer upholstered beds are equipped with a punched or perforated base panel. This is advantageous for permanent air circulation, and in the case of the double bed it is additionally supported by the center crossbar (standard base panel is not perforated here, however), and the use of the base panel ensures practical storage space. Note: Do not overfill the bed base, i.e. the ventilation holes must not be completely covered.

BP-G, punched over the entire surface

BP-S, perforated in the middle (in the single bed version)

BP-S (left side) or BP-G (in the double bed version)

MATRESSES & TOPPER

Best support

Buying the right mattress sounds easier than it is. Quality, firmness and comfort play an important role. After all, a mattress has an average lifespan of 8 to 10 years. That's why it's important to choose a high-quality and above all, suitable mattress.

RUF|Betten offers various mattresses in different degrees of firmness, from spring core to cold foam to barrel pocket spring core mattresses, which guarantee anatomically correct lying and restful sleep.

What is important is the optimal distribution of pressure. A good mattress adapts anatomically to your body shape, relieves the spine and supports it in its natural form.

So you wake up relaxed in the morning and can start the new day full of vitality.

Tested and certified<sup>1)</sup>

You can also sleep well in the certainty that all our mattresses are subject to constant inspections and tests according to the DIN standard EN 1957. You can find out more about our quality seals on page 9.

The firmness levels of a mattress<sup>2)</sup>

The degree of firmness that is best for you depends on your weight, height, proportions and your personal sense of comfort. Only through professional advice will you receive exactly the mattress that suits your sleeping habits and your body. Simply ask your specialist dealer or let us advise you individually in our showroom in Rastatt (more information on p. 7).

Ideal sleeping climate

The optimal ventilation of a mattress plays an essential role for a good sleeping climate. During sleep, the body imperceptibly releases about 1 litre of sweat. That is why ventilation is so important.

With every movement you make on a RUF|Betten mattress, heat and moisture are removed and in turn, fresh air is drawn into the mattress. This is ensured by the three-dimensional AIRSTREAM border of many RUF|Betten mattresses, special vertical holes in the cold foam mattresses and the spring cores, which are ventilated anyway.

Together with the matching bed base, our mattresses thus ensure an ideal sleeping climate and your restful sleep.

Practical and cuddly at the same time<sup>3)</sup>

Our mattress covers fulfil several purposes at once. On the one hand as a protective layer of the mattress core, on the other hand the cover influences the temperature management inside the mattress. The hygienic aspect: the covers can be easily removed and washed.

However, the cover must not only be practical, but above all cuddly. The particularly soft and highly bulky mattress covers provide a great feeling and good moisture transport, they are also skin-friendly and breathable, thus offering you the best conditions for a good night's sleep.

Small tip: With our mattresses, you can turn and/or flip the core inside the cover. This prolongs the life of the mattress and you can enjoy it even longer.

SPRING WOOD FRAMES & PILLOWS

Designed for maximum sleeping comfort

Restful sleep and cosy relaxation: What the box with barrel pocket springs is for a box spring bed, the spring wood frame is for an upholstered bed.

It provides stability and surface elasticity and plays a role that should not be underestimated when it comes to your personal well-being. Because it is only with the right slat base and the mattress of your choice that your individually tailored dream bed is created.

Because every body is different, we offer you numerous models to give you the sleep you deserve.

Tested and certified <sup>1)</sup>

The numerous quality marks on our products are also sure to give you a good feeling.

For example, the "Intertek" mark certifies that spring wood frames from RUF | Betten meet the mechanical and electrical requirements of the respective product group, i.e. that they do not endanger the safety and health of the user when used as intended.

So you are sure to sleep well.

Best by far

Spring wood frames are available from rigid to flexible, with narrow or wide spring slat spacing. When it comes to spacing, ventilation is of crucial importance. A 30 % ventilation should be the minimum, i.e. the spring slats should guarantee a "free space" of 30 %.

On the one hand, the thinner the mattress, the more flexible the slat base needs to be, as it has to provide the main part of the body-orientated support. In this case, it makes sense to choose a spring wooden frame with smaller slat spacing.

On the other hand, the stronger the mattress, the better it is able to take over the individual adjustment on its own, the wider the distance between the spring slats can be chosen.

Mobile and flexible

What could be better than sleeping in on a Sunday morning and having a little breakfast in bed? Or how about reading in bed on a rainy day in the evening, or simply indulging in your dreams in your favourite position?

No problem, because our DUOMAT-DENSITO, for example, can be operated by cable switch or remote control and APP. Lean back and relax and simply put yourself in your favourite position at the touch of a button. Relaxing can be so easy.

LRB

Adjustable basic spring wood frame

In this sprung wood frame, the slats are rigidly mounted, and positioned closer together and in various strengths, depending on the width of the frame. The LRB is particularly well-suited for use with lighter spring mat-tresses. The head end is manually adjustable, and a tension spring opens the foot end, giving access to the generous ottoman storage.

A key feature in the construction of all sprung wood frames from RUF|Betten (except LRB) is that the slats are anchored in exclusive tandem mounts, providing the comfort of springs all the way to the edge and in all directions.

Instead of a tension spring the AIRO (and all of the following spring wood frames) is fitted with a gas pressure spring/lifting aid.

Deluxe frame with added slat count

In principle, the narrower the slats and the smaller the distance between them, the more effective the sprung wood frame is. The space left for perfect ventilation is not affected. The slat cover also ensures you can enjoy the comfort of springs all the way to the edge of the bed.

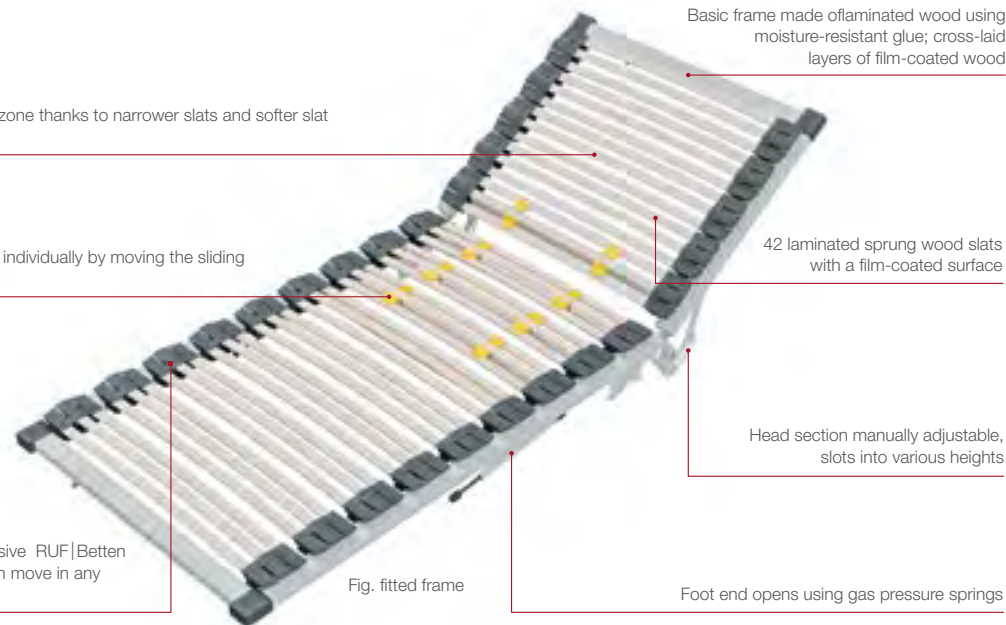

The slats are mounted in exclusive RUF|Betten triple caps made from high-quality synthetic rubber. They are flexible in all directions, creating a point-elastic sprung base that gives your body the support it needs.

DLBX/DLBX 2 – the rigid version

In the rigid version of the DLBX (and DLBX 2) box spring base, the spring wood frame is combined with a barrel pocket spring core to achieve the typical box spring lying sensation. The spring core and the spring wooden frame, which acts as a support, are joined together to form a single unit with an AIRSTREAM fabric that is permeable to air and moisture. Together with the mattress of your choice, we speak of a “box spring inside”, which is allowed to carry the original box spring label due to its construction.

DUOMATIK/UNOMATIK – Differences

The COMPOSIUM DUOMATIK can comfortably adjust the head and foot sections to your favourite position independently of each other. This is easily done via cable switch, remote control/APP. The UNOMATIK from COMPOSIUM, on the other hand, only adjusts the head section and can be operated with a cable switch. Both adjustment options can be easily operated from the bed; they are stepless and quiet.

DUOMATIK/UNOMATIK – Structure

The version with motorised adjustment differs slightly from the rigid version. The spring core is also wrapped in an AIRSTREAM fabric that is permeable to air and moisture. The spring wood frame lies separately underneath and is visible in this version, as well as being connected to the spring core by means of Velcro. See also the cross-section illustration above. Slats and bedding also vary from the conventional DUOMAT DENSITO or UNOMAT and are adapted to the requirements of the box spring. Whatever you decide, even here COMPOSIUM offers a ventilated bed base with plenty of storage space.
